MSI Warranty Procedures and Conditions

This is only valid for Australia.

The terms and conditions of MSI's warranty described herein adhere to the guidelines set forth by the Australian Competition & Consumer Commission ("ACCC"). In addition to the applicable provisions under the Australian Consumer Law ("ACL"), you are entitled to a refund or replacement for any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage. You are not entitled to a refund or replacement for any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage. You are not entitled to a refund or replacement for any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage.

- Determination of the warranty period: The warranty period starts from the date you purchase the Product with valid invoice. If the last day of the warranty period is a national holiday, the following day shall be the last day of the warranty period.
- Customer-Initiated Defect (CID): If the problem or symptoms are identified with improper usage defined as Customer-Initiated Defect (CID), MSI shall not be accepted in warranty claim of the product set. MSI reserves the right to determine whether the products are operated with any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage.
- Seek support from the original store of purchase: If you cannot seek any solution for the problem of the Product, you may seek support from the original store of purchase, because the original store of purchase knows your purchase questions. If your manual has been lost, you may download the manual you need from the MSI website.
- Seek technical support: MSI retains a group of customer service engineers with professional and knowledge. You may post a message about the problem you encounter on MSI's categorized and categorized forum. However, the customer must properly fill in the required information, product use, serial number, or you may search on the website for FAQ, to see whether there is any answer to your problem.
